

CS 496 Mobile & Cloud Development

REST API Usage Assignment 2

Sarah Harber

The Github API is RESTFUL. The Client handles the front end and the server handles the back end and they work independently. It is also stateless, as no data is stored on the server between requests and sessions. And it is Cacheable, therefore, it is RESTFUL.